The Funniest Event

There are many humorous events in our lives, but the funniest I ever experienced was when my brother walked on water. It happened in the summer of the year 1964. Our cousin Ed was visiting us. My father had his camera out and had set the shutter speed at one five hundredth of a second. Tom jumped into the pool and "click" the picture was taken.

About a month later the film came back (as) processed. That night after we had eaten dinner we got out the projector and set up the screen. We showed all the slides until we came to a picture of (me) my brother, Tom walking on water.

The way to do this is very simple. You take a good camera, (as) this was done with a 35 millimeter camera, then you set the shutter at a high speed. The shutter will have shut (so) before the person has hit the water.

We saw the slide we started to laugh and laugh. Now I know what people mean when they say they almost died laughing.
